Forecast For Yorkshire & the Humber
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Monday 18 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Becoming cloudy and wet.

This Evening and Tonight:
Soon becoming cloudy as rain spreads northeastwards across the region. Rain, persistent across the Pennines, will continue overnight, turning heavy at times. Winds generally light, but becoming breezy in the south later in the night. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Tuesday:
Very wet, with a band of persistent, occasionally heavy rain stalling over the region. Becoming increasingly breezy, particularly in the south. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Rain continuing Wednesday, persistent and heavy later. Colder Thursday, with a risk of gales and snow. Brighter Friday but cold with wintry showers.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.